Bloodmobile Visit Oct. 2nd Successful

I know you are as proud as I am that our second visit of the fiscal year of the bloodmobile was so successful. Our goal was 100 units and we went over the top with 110 collected. We had 111 to register and only one deferral, which was a top record. Less than one percent deferred is a record that is hard to beat anywhere. With our good turnout, I missed seeing a lot of our regulars. Now I know you can't make it every time but I just want you to know that I missed you.

We had nine first time donors and all nine came through with flying colors, feeling great. They are as follows: Beverly M. Bowman, Carolyn Hamilton, Nancy VanDerVeer, Vivian W. Jones, Gertrude Wesley, Lawrence E. Woody, Debra Smith, Marietta Irby and Janet Morgan.

We also had a nice list receiving pins: One gallon pins went to Ellen D. McCormick, Iris G. Woody, Ellen P. Smith, Wanda H. Booth and Kathy O. Womack.

Linda Lewis received her two gallon pin. Those receiving three gallon pins were: Nancy Hall, Carolyn K. Dickerson, and Robert A. Fitzgerald.

John W. Canada took top honor for the day as he was awarded his SIX gallon pin. Come on donors, let's see who will take top honor on our next visit.

Our next visit will be on Monday December 17th. I know this is getting close to Christmas and that is all the more reason that you and I should give of our time and our blood. When you give blood you are giving life, what greater gift can you give? Make your plans now and mark your calendar to be sure you will make your gift on December 17th. (We mark our calendars for other special events, such as Christmas dinners and parties so why not this?). Since we do have a special reason for giving, I just know we will go over the top again. Just today, two people told me that they are making definite plans to start donating blood on our very next visit.

In next week's Times-Virginian you will find the list of volunteers who so generously gave of their time in order that this visit could take place.

The Bible And Daily Living

By Dr. William L. Trimyer

Following The Jesus Way
Lesson for October 14, 1979
Scripture Reference: Phil.2
Focal Passage: Phil. 2:1-11

Maintain this same mind among yourselves, which is like unto the mind of Jesus, who, though he was in the form of God, did not see equality with God something to be attained, but emptied himself, becoming a servant, being born in the likeness of men. (Phil.2:5-6)

The Power Of Suggestion

Philippians is basically a love story! It reflects Paul's affection for the people of Philippi. One of Paul's major concerns for any Christian community is that there be harmony within. In order for any church to bear an effective witness and ministry there must be a prevailing sense of unity. Paul appeals to the example of Jesus to demonstrate his concern.

Phil. 2:1-4 contains Paul's exhortation to unity. He addresses his concern to the issue of harmonious living within the fellowship. "If there be..." is not meant to imply doubt; rather it assumes a certain condition. In other words, there is, indeed, "consolation in Christ."

Peace is often an allusive goal. Jesus said, "Happy are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the sonsand daughters) of God." (Matt. 5:9) It is generally much easier to keep the peace than it is to make peace. The Middle East conflict between the nations Israel and Egypt is a firm example of how difficult peace is sometimes obtained. Keeping the peace is somewhat expected. Peacemaking, on the other hand, involves an intense struggle to achieve unity out of chaos and disunity.

Some persons and faction groups thrive on violence and conflict. Power, not peace, becomes the motivating drive. Because of selfishness and greed some persons actually set up situations which bring about division and bitterness.

Paul encourages the Philippians by showing cause whereby unity can bring about a deep sense of joy. Such joy is achieved only by putting others first. Autocratic leadership usually brings about division. An attitude that seeks to reflect superiority cannot have peace and unity at heart. The person who cannot appreciate the contributions of others leaves little room for harmony to blossom. Paul exhorts his hearers to take others seriously. Paul is right. When we can get to the place where we can "get ourselves off our hands," then we are ready to experience the sensation of harmony.

The Way of Jesus

Paul argues that our striving should bring us to the place where we seek to have a mind that thinks like that of Jesus. And Jesus always thought of himself in the role of the servant. The servant concept is an appropriate model for ministry. Jesus sought to be among the people. He willingly chose the way of Golgotha when he could have lived in riches. Jesus willfully towed the line of most resistance. He went the way of self-sacrifice in order that people might see love in all its splendor.

Harry Emerson Fosdick preached a sermon entitled, "The Danger of Worshipping Jesus." At first glance the title shatters your thinking. Mr. Fosdick argues that Jesus encouraged his followers to imitate him rather than worship him. The point is well taken. Jesus set the example through his response to life and death. His life challenged the people to walk a path of self-sacrifice. His death assured eternal life at the end of the human pilgrimage.

From Darkness To Light

Paul describes the way of Jesus in terms of sacrifice. God endorsed the "way of Jesus" by affirming him through name"... which is above every name: that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow...and that every tongue should confess that Jesus if Lord." Of course, Jesus is not universally acknowledged, and never will be until the promised kingdom comes to fruition.

The test of true discipleship in any age is whether a person will acknowledge that Jesus is Lord. The early Christians were pressured to declare, "Caesar is Lord." Refusal to do so oftentimes met with death. What about our own day. Has it become difficult for us to declare. "Jesus is Lord?"

Dr. Trimyer is pastor of Elon Baptist Church in Pamplin, Va.

The Pastor Speaks

Where is God when armies clash in deadly battle? God is where mercy abounds. God is where sympathy stoops to share the awful burden. God is where grief sheds a tear and a little song of hope and love is at the heart of the battle's hell. God is where tired, brave, bewildered young people lie down to die with forgiveness in their hearts. Whereever the cross is there God is.

Overruling providence takes place in the context of personal relationships between God and the individual. It is the providence that comes to us in our daily lives. God still says, "All things work together for good to them who love the Lord who are the called according to his purpose."

God's overruling providence is not a mere matter of correcting our errors and mistakes, or covering our incompetence or saving us from the results of our sins and our foolishness. It is God seeing the possibilities of a situation which we ourselves have brought about for the fullfilment of our being or his purpose in us.

There was no predetermined thought in the situation which the mother lost her child by the drunken driver, but God's overruling providence will be directed toward helping that mother regain her will to live and desire to go on and be the mother she should be to the others.

The Man placed the weather vane on top of his barn and underneath the vane he inscribed the words: God is love, When someone inquired about this. He simply replied. "No matter which way the wind may blow, God is still love.

ASCS TODAY

By Tom Conrad

ASCS Committee Elections - On October 4, ASCS mailed all known eligible voters a letter and blank petition to nominate a candidate you want to run for Community Committeeman for 1980. I encourage you to use this opportunity to nominate your farm neighbors as candidates in the committee election.

The ASC committee provides the important service of administrating government farm programs to the farm community. The election will be conducted by mail from November 23 to December 3. Eligible voters will be provided with instructions for filling out the secret ballot and returning it to the ASCS office.

Most resident farmers are eligible to hold office as ASC committeemen. If you would like detailed information concerning eligibility requirements, you should contact the ASCS office.

In filling out a petition, you should be careful to include the name of only one nominee, the signatures of at least three eligible ASC voters who support the nominee and certification that the nominee is willing to serve, if elected. The petition must contain this information, without it they will not be accepted. The completed petition should be dated and mailed or be delivered to the ASCS office no later than October 29.

Any concerned farmer with an interest in serving fellow farmers would be an asset to the ASC committee. For this reason, you are urged to petition for the farmers of your choice. The individual farmer will benefit in the long run from a responsible, concerned team of ASC committeemen in the local administration of U. S. government farm programs.

Fire-Cured Tobacco News - Within the next two weeks all farmers that produced fire-cured tobacco this year will be mailed a post card asking them to certify as to the use of DDT, TDE, Toxephine and Endrin and also whether or not Maryland tobacco was produce on the farm.

When you receive this card you are aked to fill it out, sign, date and send it back to the ASCS office as soon as possible. The post card must be on file before we can mail a marketing card to an individual later in the year.

While on the subject of fire-cured tobacco, I have been asked by several farmers when the markets will open this year. AS of yet I do not know the exact date, however when I do find out I will forward the information on to you.

Flue-Cured Tobacco - All flue-cured tobacco farmers are asked to return their marketing cards to the ASCS office when they have completed their marketings for the 1979 crop year.

Milk To Be Supported At 80 Percent of Parity - Manufacturing milk will be supported at 80 percent of the Oct. 1 parity price, Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland has announced.

The exact support price has not been determined yet. However, it is expected that it will be about $11.22 per hundredweight for milk with a milkfat content of 3.5 percent, compared with the present support of $10.51. The $11.22 support price is equivalent to $11.49 for milk with 3.67 percent milkfat, the U.S. annual average, compared with the present support of $10.76 at average test.

The adjustment will have little effect on consumer prices since market forces were expected to put retail prices above the new support level by Oct. 1.

By law, milk must be supported at 75 to 90 percent of parity. The support level was set at 80 percent on Oct. 1 to assure an adequate supply of milk, to reflect changes in the cost production, and to assure dairy farmers an income that will enable them to maintain sufficient productive capacity to meet anticipated future needs.

To enable manufacturing plants, on the average, to pay producers at least the support price for their milk, the government offers to buy butter, cheese and nonfat dry milk at announced prices.

The government purchase prices will be announced at the same time as the milk support price.

Dairy products purchased by the government are used mostly for domestic and foreign donations. They also are available for sale at 105 percent of current purchase prices.

Make-It-Yourself With Wool

The Virginia Make-It-Yourself-With-Wool Contest will be held Saturday, November 17, 1979, at Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. The contest is sponsored in Virginia by the Women's Auxiliary to the National Wool Growers Sheep Federation.

It was organized to focus attention on the beauty and versatility of wool; to encourage use of this incomparable fabric or yarn in sewing, knitting, crocheting fashionable garments and to offer youths and adults the opportunity to compete for valuable prizes and win recognition for their skills.

Contestants are placed in the pre-teen, junior, senior or adult group according to their age as of December 31 of the current contest year. Garment categories for juniors, seniors and adults are two-piece suit, dress and coat. Pre-teens can enter pants, vest, skirt, sweater, jumper or poncho.

All entries must be made from loomed, knitted, or felted fabric or yarn of 100 % wool or a minimum of 60% wool and no more than 40 % synthetic fiber. The garment must have been completed after January 1 of the current year.

Take advantage of this opportunity and show-off your construction skills.

Contact the Appomattox County Extension Office (P. O. Box 488) if you are interested in competing. We will send you the entry form which has to be returned to us by October 31, 1979, and other details about the contest.

Former Pastor To Speak

Pastor Delphin S. Weinberg and his wife, Alice, will be visiting briefly in Appomattox this weekend, from their home in Illinois. Pastor Weinberg was largely responsible for the beginning of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church in Appomattox.

In 1945 Weinberg assisted Harold French with a tent evangelistic effort in town and afterwards assumed responsibility for the group in 1946. Building of the local church began under his leadership in 1947 and it was dedicated before he left in 1951.

Some folk in the community may remember Alice Weinberg who taught English and Algebra in Appomattox High School during the years of '45-46 and '46-'47.

All friends and acquaintances are cordially invited to attend the Worship Hour on Saturday morning, October 13, at 11:20 in the Seventh-Day Adventist Church when D. S. Weinberg will be speaking.
